

BANDIT DEFIANT AS TROOPS SHELL AND SMASH HOUSE

Russian Survives Fire of Big Guns and Is Captured Fighting.

LAY WOUNDED IN RUINS

Killed Several Policemen Before His Place of Refuge Was Blown to Pieces.

WARSAW, Russian Poland, April 24.

A notorious brigand, Stanislaus Lis, the author of many crimes, has been captured at Lublin, ninety-five miles from here, mortally wounded, after the house in which he had sought refuge had been blown to pieces by artillery fire.

Lis, when he saw that a detachment of police was advancing on the house, barricaded himself within and opened fire on the police, killing several of them. Troops were summoned to the assistance of the police, but they were unable to dislodge the bandit.

Finally several quick-firing field pieces were brought up and trained on the house. Eight shells hit the building, which was demolished, after which the infantry stormed the ruins and found Lis, desperately wounded, trying to reload his revolver, which he had emptied at the attacking party.

TO STUDY EARTHQUAKES.

SEATTLE, Wash., April 24.—T. A. Jagger, Jr., professor of geology at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, is in this city en route to Alaska, where he will head a party of eminent scientists who will study seismic and volcanic conditions in the Aleutian Islands. Their studies will have as an underlying purpose the discovery of a means whereby the present trouble experienced in engineering where seismic disturbances are numerous will be avoided.

STEAMER BURNS, CREW NARROWLY ESCAPING DEATH

Sick Man, Penned in His Berth, Gets Out Through Porthole.

Flames burst from the hold of the steamer Pioneer, of the Stephens & Condit line, anchored at pier No. 13, North River, to-day and spread with such rapidity that the captain and crew had difficulty in escaping with their lives.

The Pioneer, which ran between New York and Newark carrying freight and making two trips daily, was a 700-ton vessel, 120 feet long, and last night when she tied up at her pier she was loaded with a cargo valued at about $20,000. She was expected to sail at dawn to-day.

This fire was discovered by Thomas Miller, a night watchman, whose yell awakened Capt. William H. Chambers and his crew. The flames started in the forward hold and soon spread to the stern of the boat. All of the men hustled down the gangplank with the exception of Robert Darcy, one of the crew, who was ill in his bunk. Darcy was cut off by the flames and had to climb through a porthole.

Five engines, two fireboats and a patrol boat kept the flames confined to the Pioneer, and it did not become necessary to tow her from her pier. "This is hard luck," said Capt. Chambers when the fire was over. "Stephen's & Condit lost eleven horses in the fire yesterday, and now their ship is burned."

The total loss is estimated at $75,000.

FOUR SWEEP OVER FALL

Finances of One Victim Was on Way South to Wed Him Sunday.

RALEIGH, N. C., April 24.—On the day that his fiancée was leaving St. Paul to join him here and be married next Sunday, Hans Thorson, of St. Paul, general foreman of a construction company erecting a power plant in the Cape Fear River, was carried over the Buckhorn Falls yesterday and drowned, with three other workers. His companions were J. B. Brady, of Monroe, N. C., assistant foreman, and two negro laborers.

The men were in a scow trying with poles to shove out from the bank to reach a lower landing. They were carried out into the swift current and swept over the falls. Thorson's fiancée was Miss Thelma Lindgren.
